Important information to consider before PCS

- Before making a Permanent Change of Station (PCS) move to Morón Air Base, there are several important factors to consider:
  - ✚ Morón AB is a small Geographically Separated Unit (GSU) with no Child and Youth Program (CYP) services (Child Development Center (CDC), School Age Care (SAC), or Youth Programs).
  - ✚ If you are a single parent or dual military with school-age children, you may need to re-evaluate your volunteer status for this assignment and/or accompanied status.

- ✚ Extracurricular activities and summer/winter camps are offered in the local area. Transportation services are not included.
- ✚ Spanish education may not be aligned with U.S. standards and benchmarks. Parents are responsible for transferring the student's transcripts.
- ✚ SE/MS cannot currently support students on IEP or with any special needs.

Education in Spain

- In Spain, education is mandatory for children between the ages of six and sixteen. This means that children must be enrolled in a school or educational program during this period.
- The school year in Spain typically begins in the first week of September and ends in the last week of June.
- The hours of operation for schools in Spain can vary, but a common schedule is from 0900 to 1400 with a half-hour break for lunch.
- Lessons in Spanish schools are usually divided into teaching periods of 45 minutes each. Students typically have multiple subjects throughout the day.
- The regional government's Ipasen App is a common platform for direct parent-teacher communication in Spain. It allows parents to stay informed about their child's progress and school-related information.
- Please note that the Spanish education system may have differences compared to education systems in other countries, so it's essential to become familiar with the specific requirements and procedures if you plan to enroll your child in a Spanish school.

Types of School

- Public Schools: Public schools offer free education to students, and their curriculum is typically determined by the Ministry of Education. These schools are open to all students, and admission is based on residence within the school's catchment area.
- Publicly Funded Private Schools: Publicly funded private schools, also known as "concertados," receive government funding in exchange for signing education agreements with the local education authority. These schools may charge fees, but they are usually more affordable than fully private schools.
- Private Schools: Private schools in Spain are fully independent and privately funded. They have more autonomy in setting their curriculum and admission criteria. These schools often offer a wider range of educational programs and extracurricular activities. However, they typically charge tuition fees.

Admission and Enrollment Procedures for Public Schools and Publicly Funded Private Schools

- Public and publicly funded private ("concertado") schools in the area are in high demand. Therefore, it is highly encouraged to register your child during the enrollment period to secure a spot in these schools.
- The documentation typically needed for enrollment may include:
  - Copy of the child's birth certificate and passport
  - Copy of the parents' passports

Admission and Enrollment Procedures for Private Schools

- Families applying to private schools are often required to provide their child's educational records, including transcripts and school reports, if applicable. These records help the school assess the student's academic background.
- Many private schools may require students to take an admission test as part of the enrollment process to evaluate the student's readiness for the school's curriculum.
- Private school options in the area:
  - International School "Alminar" (Dos Hermanas, 40 min. away from Morón Air Base). Accredited by the Spanish curriculum.
